PLANNING FOR NON-TRADITIONAL FAMILIES AND THE EVOLVING DEFINITION OF MARRIAGE

Presented by Jerry Simon Chasen, Esq.

Today's family patterns bear less a relationship to Ozzie and Harriet (or Homer and Marge, depending on your age or socio-economic situation) than those of previous generations. Some couples choose not to marry; some can't; some do, but live in places where the marriage isn't recognized. Those choosing to rear children will do so, but will have to make their arrangements across a legal patchwork. All of these present particular planning challenges. We'll discuss these challenges as well as the few (but powerful) planning opportunities that the non-traditional family presents.

COLLABORATIVE DIVORCE: DIVORCE WITH DIGNITY, CIVILITY AND RESPECT

Presented by Elaine King, CFP®; Robert Joseph Merlin, Esq.; Rosemarie S. Roth, Esq.;
Sammi Siegel, Ph.D.; Lana M. Stern, Ph.D.; Richard Tejera, Esq.

Collaborative Divorce is a process that allows parties, each represented by a collaboratively trained attorney, to proceed through a divorce in a civil, respectful and safe environment without going to court. The result is resolution and settlement of all issues. The financial planner's role in the Collaborative process is significant and cost effective. The financial planner is agreed upon by the parties, serves in a neutral role, and analyzes the parties' assets and liabilities for the purpose of equitable distribution as well as advising the parties in the disposition of their marital assets and liabilities, in family support matters, their children's education, insurance and investment counseling. A panel of collaboratively trained experts in law, finance and mental health will educate and enlighten attendees, with a question and answer period to follow.

Accepted for 2 hours of insurance and CFP CE.
